

AUTHRIX

DATA USE POLICY
TERMS AND CONDITIONS

APPLICABLE TO ALL USERS OF THE AUTHRIX ALPHA REGISTRATION SYSTEM

Authrix (Lukas Mahl)

This document clarifies legal circumstances within the “Authrix” Alpha testing phase between Lukas Mahl referred als “Authrix” or “we” and the client, referred as “you” or “user”.

§1 Validity of Terms and Conditions and Data Use Policy

Those Terms and Conditions are valid during the registration and account managing process only. As soon as your register within the actual Authrix system new Terms and Conditions and Data Use policies will apply. You confirm that you will make sure to keep yourself updated about all future versions of the Terms and Conditions and the Data Use Policy. We will inform you via your registered email address if this document should change. Furthermore a copy of the current version of the Terms and Conditions may be obtained by contacting us per email (hello@authrix.com) or online (<https://authrix.com/doc/tos.pdf>). When registering the user agrees to all regulations mentioned in the actual document.

§2 Registering

Registering an account is free. When registering the user confirms to enter valid personal data and to not abuse or exploit the registration system. Each user is only allowed to enter once. Authrix may block, delete and reject users or IP addresses without giving reasons. When registering the user is accepted in the user pool, the user has no guaranteed access to the Alpha testing phase when registering. As soon as the system is ready Authrix will select a given amount of random people, who will be able to join the system. Authrix may cancel or abort the Alpha testing phase at any time, there is no guarantee that the Alpha testing will take place. There is also no guarantee when the Authrix Alpha testing will take place. A user counts as registered when their email address has been confirmed and if correct user details had been used for the registration. Each email registration link will expire after 2 hours. If email verification fails Authrix support should be contacted.

§3 Alpha

The user will receive new Terms and Conditions and Data Use Policies when their Alpha account is ready. The user is only allowed to register their account during a given time slot, which will be mentioned in the confirmation email. If the user does not activate their account during this time slot, the account will expire and Alpha access will be denied. There is no guarantee that the Alpha account is available if a confirmation email was received. Registering an Alpha account is only possible when agreeing to the Authrix Alpha Terms and Conditions and to a NDA agreement. Additional users may be selected during the running Alpha test if there is capacity left, but there is no guarantee. Each Alpha user will get free quota and resources to test the system, the actual amount and scale may vary and is not guaranteed.

§4 Rejected registrations

Registered users, who have not been selected to participate in the Authrix Alpha testing will have the opportunity to register for a Beta account instead. The respective Terms and Conditions for the Beta account registration will apply and the user will receive a copy when registering. There is no guarantee that registered users will get access to the Beta testing.

§5 Registered accounts

The user is not allowed to sell their registration. Non-profit sharing or transfer with third party people is allowed.

§6 Feature suggestions

Authrix offers free Guaranteed Instant Alpha Access to people who provide Authrix with appropriate and good feature suggestions. Authrix has the right to decide on those feature wishes and wether they are eligible for free Guaranteed Instant Alpha access. Authrix has the right to deny feature suggestions without giving reasons.

§7 Reserving a username

Authrix allows the user to reserve a username, which they can use in the Authrix system as soon as they Alpha has been started. During the whole Alpha and Beta process this username will be stored in the Authrix database and ready to be used. When registering on the Authrix system the user may choose a different username or redeem the reserved username. If the reserved username is not redeemed or expires after Beta has been ended it will be freed and available for anyone to register. The reserved username may be decided or deleted without giving reasons. It is not allowed to use copyrighted, illegal, advertising or fraudulent texts within the username. Authrix does not guarantee that the username will be available at the end.

§7 Additional regulations for users of “Authrix Guaranteed Instant Alpha Access”

Users may receive an invitation for the Authrix Alpha access. This invitation can be accepted until Alpha has been ended. An invitation key entitles the user to access the Authrix alpha system immediately after Alpha has been started. This guarantee is cancelled if the user obtained a sold invitation or used provided wrong data when registering. There is no guarantee for access or compensation when there is no Authrix Alpha testing.

§8 Invitations of third party people

Certain accounts have the possibility to invite other people to join the Guaranteed Authrix Alpha as well. Those invited third party persons face the same rules as other invited or registered people. Authrix may reduce or cancel the invitation contingent for individual users without giving reasons. There is no guarantee that the user will be able to use all assigned contingents. Invitations must not be sold and are bound to an individual email address. Each invitation will be subtracted from the available contingent and can not be changed once sent. In individual cases Authrix may be able to delete or alter the sent invitation.

§9 Deleting an invitation or registration

If the user wishes to delete their invitation entry or registration they should send a request to Authrix per email (hello@authrix.com) containing their account ID or email address. Authrix may take measures to confirm the identify of the requester and will complete the order as soon as possible.

§10 Final statement

Authrix Alpha access is a free offer from Authrix for interested people to gain insight into the Authrix system before launch and explore its capabilities. Authrix neither contracts any agreements nor any obligations. Furthermore German substantive law applies to all disputes.

Data Use Policy

Besides the entered user data (first name, last name, email address and desired username) Authrix gathers the IP address and time of submission to secure ourself against any kind of abuse. All collected or gathered data will stay within Authrix and is not shared with third party companies or people. Authrix processes the data for internal research and analysis to select random people to participate in the Authrix Alpha. Authrix may distribute the data between its servers. Authrix observes all applicable regulations connected to data collection and analyses. Your data is transferred encrypted, but stored unencrypted on our servers in order to be able to process it.

Authrix uses an internal statistics tool to evaluate and analyse user visits. This internal tool uses cookies to identify users. If you wish to not be tracked you can use your browsers “Do not Track” feature. This will disable any tracking measures for your browser. This data stays on our servers and is not shared with third party people or companies.
